10 December 2022, A Day to Bear Witness and Change History

Good morning to all of you,

We propose to participate in a first large-scale joint action in as many French and European cities as possible on Saturday 10 December 2022.

The success of the local formula so far gives us reason to believe that this national and international event could make a difference.

The Concept

In partnership with the structures and personalities mentioned at the beginning of this document, families of the victims, the Action200 Perpignan and GreLive (Grenoble) collectives, citizens' groups from 77 and the Alliance du Peuple TV, based on the success of similar local events, are calling for a national event, in all towns, villages or places where people frequent, whose unifying element will be large portraits (A1) of people who have died from injections, or who have been very seriously affected by them. The cost of these large portraits should not be a deterrent: even well-mounted A2 or A3 colour posters are effective.

An action carried out in the most pacifist, but also the most dignified and strongest possible way, to communicate about the serious and deadly side effects of Covid vaccinations.

Each portrait will be accompanied by a few very clear lines, visible from a distance, specifying, without detailing the nationality: the first and last name of the person, the age, the injection given, the time and cause of death, or the serious undesirable side effect caused. And sometimes a ban on autopsies.

We have chosen 10 December 2022, the anniversary of the 1948 Universal Declaration of Human Rights, for this event.

On 10 December 2022, from 10am or 2pm depending on our possibilities, let's bear witness to this reality by word and image, let's encourage and bring our loved ones and anyone we know to bear witness! The uselessness and damage caused by injections have started to spread in people's consciousness, and a fundamental work is underway.

If every one of our voices didn't count, they wouldn't try to control any of them.
Every voice that carries the truth makes them tremble and shake.

History has shown us many times that, through the testimony and perseverance of victims, lawyers, associations, whistleblowers, journalists, politicians... scandals break, injustices are stopped, corrupt governments fall.

As the date is fast approaching, we need to send this letter with the partners who have already responded, but all are welcome to join us and we will add you as we go along. Contact us to join this action!

Let's meet on 10 December!

Why this formula?

Waking up the still sleeping minds is the only safe and in any case necessary solution to stop the tyranny that has been announced, and the sooner we wake them up, the sooner the nightmare that has already begun will end.

When you try to wake people up, as you probably know from your own experience, it is difficult to fight against the sometimes almost religious programming.

And yet the formula of presenting large portraits of the victims, which we have tested extensively, works to open eyes and dialogue and to sway the convictions of the most persuaded.

With this formula, Action 200 Perpignan, for more than 10 months, has reached tens of thousands of people directly and totalled more than 50 million internet views through the sharing of photos and videos in several countries of the world. Other collectives have been able to verify this.

Beyond these figures, the formula has also shaken many convictions, and not always the least.

The presentation of undeniable facts with faces allows for that first, difficult, necessary and effective break in the conditioning. These visual and silent testimonies, devoid of aggression or claims, touch heads, bodies and hearts directly. They bring people face to face with a reality that affects them and, as you know, once the lies are challenged, there is no going back to sleep. Finally, speaking out for the victims in a peaceful way helps to bypass any labelling.

In our collectives, all those who have experienced these actions have seen them as a strong and beautiful tool that makes a difference, in the realm of catharsis, a renewal of hope to reach the population... and they have seen the validity of this hope in the reaction of passers-by.

So... let's apply this formula on a large scale.

The sphere of reinformation today has a capacity to reach a wider population than the traditional media, which is too often subservient to interests contrary to those of humanity, and a capacity to influence better provided that it avoids being pigeonholed and uses the right message. Also, arming all reinformers with this message through a large-scale event will increase the impact exponentially.

It is also a unique opportunity to work together, to learn to coordinate rather than to remain fragmented, while there are tens of thousands of us engaged on the ground, millions convinced but silent, and tens of millions waiting for facts and figures to change their minds and join us.

Let us make 10 December everywhere a national and international day of witness and truth that no one will be able to refuse to see, in a way that we hope none of us will have reason to refuse.

Every support counts

Several associations, active groups and personalities have already given their support to the event to prepare and launch this action, which already ensures a mobilisation and a scope that we hope will be worth the effort for you to participate with us on 10 December.

You probably already know them, but the aim of the event is for the whole of France and even Europe to come together with collectives, associations, individuals, witnesses and "influencers".

Together we will succeed.

Charter

We ask that you respect the event's charter. It is understood that we are human, that we cannot foresee everything, but our words and actions must contribute to the general interest and to the success of the event.

It is a gathering where partisan, religious or ideological speeches are not appropriate, where we will consciously avoid ostensibly pulling the wool over one's eyes: we must be united and converge today like the Resistance fighters did yesterday, whatever our political affiliation or lack of it, because we are in a common fight for humanity and for our children, beyond all the natural and artificial divisions between us.

The only legitimate political elements in such action are public health, public interest, justice and freedom, including freedom of information. And the message is more important than the messenger.

In passing, we will attract more useful interest in our specific causes by refusing to go into detail on that day, and by postponing such discussions. We are there to draw attention to the danger for our interlocutors and society, to create a breach in the misinformation we are victims of, to reassure that nobody is alone, that there are support structures, and to decide the public that it is urgent to mobilise, if only by refusing unnecessary and dangerous measures from now on. In the end, we will get more attention and have more effect.

The watchword is dignity in all our actions and words, clarity and irreproachability in our testimonies, facts and figures, revealing the content of this crisis and the direction it would have us take.

Violence absolutely forbidden and refused.

Whatever your pain, indignation and anger, violence will prevent the message from getting through. The slightest trace of resentment or spite in your words can undermine your credibility and ours with people who are not usually responsible for the situation, or others who despise people who are overwhelmed by their emotions.

Letting off steam serves no purpose and only fuels what we are fighting.

Avoid recriminations, verbal traps and provocations, don't get the portraits confiscated, stay legal and efficient.

Do not stay alone. Resist provocation, avoid confrontation.

Ask questions, quote figures and official reports humbly but firmly, point out contradictory statements and admissions by politicians and doctors: this will eventually disarm even the worst provocateurs in front of the audience.

Avoid bringing up any controversial topics at the event that could label you.

Do not accept labels that may be given to you to discredit you. Say no, explicitly. Question the reasoning, or at worst call for the label or prejudice to be investigated. Not giving an answer by referring to the facts is sometimes the most effective. For example:

"This is not the day for that. We are here for the victims, and to prevent you from becoming one of them one day soon.

"Take up the definition of fascism, which is the oppression of the weakest and the right of the strongest by a state and hierarchical and authoritarian structures at its service, using censorship and intimidation. And tell us how we fit in or not, when we are the only ones to warn about the damage suffered in the first place by defenceless children and elders. Are we obscurantist and dangerous when we are the only ones to quote official figures on the side effects of useless and catastrophic vaccinations promoted by the most corrupt firms and to put forward the precautionary principle? Do I look like a member of a government that, in collusion with

	corporations, tramples on freedoms and the public interest?" In the light of history and experience, irrationality, lack of culture and irresponsibility are on the side of the accusers.
	Whatever our doubts and certainties, let's avoid all the difficult, slippery topics, labelled as far-fetched, but also the hypotheses not commonly accepted beyond what we bring the proof of that day, audible by all. Be careful, because even a UFO fan in the audience, for example, can take the discussion beyond what the rest of the audience is ready to hear, and cause problems. Let's focus on the indisputable facts and the questions they raise. "Whatever the truth is, this is not the time to talk about it. A clear understanding of the issue of Covid or other vaccines will, no doubt, lead to many other understandings. It is very counterproductive to want to agree on everything and to want to hear everything at the same time.

Organisation and Preparation

Present the project to your teams. Announce the event

By whatever means you can, mobilise the collectives, Signal and Telegram groups and those who listen to you. Encourage them to participate, even briefly, even if it is to ask questions. Regularly remind them of the name of the event, its date and its message.

Awareness raising and call for testimonies

Once you have decided to participate in this day, get people to testify, show them that testimonies of individuals have changed the history of medicine and patients. Point out the pride and good that comes out of the testimonies, for them, their loved ones, the future, the memory of their fathers, mothers and ancestors, and the protection provided by a lawyer eventually. Doctors and all personalities of the resistance should really call to testify for themselves or their relatives and join us en masse

Spam and acknowledgement of receipt

We have seen a sharp increase in false spam labels between organisations' collectives and mailing lists. Please ensure that you receive the emails correctly.

Preparing interventions

Along with the portraits of the deceased or victims of injections, the pillars of this day should be the victims of Covid vaccinations, but also possibly the victims of other vaccinations if they wish to take advantage of this opportunity to testify, always making the link with the current situation and without blurring the present message.

Experts or personalities can also be effective speakers.

Contact them directly if you know them, or local representatives of national or international associations, remembering that you are participating in an event that brings together recognised structures and other associations alerting to the dangers of vaccinations, such as REVAV, LNPLV, Verity France or the collectives that launched the project, who can put you in touch with parents and families of these victims, who have come to speak at various rallies, and to whom we express our gratitude today for their courage and dedication.

In each locality, as far as possible, at least one victim and one personality could be present, for the attractiveness of the event, but also for the participants and the media, but without this ever taking precedence over the visual and direct message of the victims' portraits, which is always the foundation of this day.

We will also try to benefit from the testimonies of the various professions affected and/or suspended and the age groups impacted by compulsory vaccinations: nurses, firemen, all medical and social personnel, police officers, teachers, children, high school students, adults and the elderly. They too are victims.

Let's have the many personalities of our resistance spread over many places, even silently or very quietly if they wish to let the testimony of the portraits speak for themselves, but still attracting participants, media and internet views. Depending on the preparations and spontaneous arrivals, we will be joined by witnesses, NGO representatives, victims' associations, whistleblowers, scientists, journalists, doctors and carers, politicians and media personalities... to create links, raise awareness and show that we are there for the future of all. It is united for humanity that we act.

And see what technical means you can mobilise for these interventions (sound system for example).

Prepare portraits and displays

Unfortunately, not all victims can speak, and the portraits of those who can no longer speak are a key element of the event, to open up dialogue and awareness.

Each team organising the event will have had a number of A1 portraits printed or made. But individuals may also freely print portraits, trying to avoid duplication.

As mentioned in the introduction, the cost of A1 signs should not be a deterrent, everyone should be able to join the action, and there are several solutions:

- 1) we can make a call for a fund to help the destitute collectives;
- 2) You can print on A2 or A3 colour like the funeral march in Italy.

No bans, everyone is welcome, we should not cut ourselves off from anyone and diversity will even be a plus in order not to be labelled as a pyramidal organisation that is more easily attacked.

To have each portrait printed costs between 15 and 20 euros in total for a print on a tarpaulin and a waterproof, wind and tear resistant, washable mount with glue or strong clips allowing it to be reused often and to be lent out.

The collectives can provide you with addresses of companies we have already worked with, but getting local printers to work is good too.

For those who wish to do so, models of visuals, general or adaptable to the places and times of the gatherings, can be proposed.

Action 200 Perpignan provides PDFs of its clear, strong, visible and legible montages that have proven to be effective. Verity France also has a number of them on its website. And there is nothing to prevent the creation of your own images in accordance with the charter.

For image rights reasons, Verity France's resources can be used first. In the weeks leading up to the event, let's make sure that new testimonies emerge, with other portraits that will awaken other consciences. So far there have been no problems with foreign portraits for which rights have not been expressly requested, but it will be a personal choice of the people who print.

Keep in mind the objective of a first breach to lift the veil on a whole system

The challenge is for this vaccine scandal and the unveiling of the regime that imposes it to move people's consciences and make them understand the rest, as one person can bring down an entire network and system, as Me Too did. The victims of the other vaccines, in particular the compulsory ones, help to remind us of the liberticide side still in place, the danger still run (including the evocation of the return of the mask and the integration of the covid vaccines into the seasonal flu vaccines) in order to become aware of the mafia aspect that this industry has had for a long time.

We are faced with what is in practice a mafia, which, like all mafias, collaborates with the powers that be, and a mafia that fights back through the words of the victims and the repentant, which leads to the obligation of the authorities to act. Important changes have occurred in this way in the past.

We must not forget the other proven damages of sanitary measures that have always caused the opposite of what they announced: confinements, tests, masks, passes, vaccinations have always harmed the health and freedom of the population without ever protecting the people at risk, for the exclusive benefit of pharmaceutical companies closely linked to governments, in scenarios that have already been repeated in history.

But let us respect the dignity and the fundamental message of the event.

Have planned argumentation and information

It goes without saying that it is best to prepare speeches, facts, figures and documents, arguments and counter-arguments.

And, in accordance with the charter, to know the words to avoid while reconciling freedom and responsibility towards all and those who suffer the dramatic consequences of health measures, starting with vaccinations.

We recommend having with you, quoting and repeating the number of victims contained in the official figures: the ANSM's "Suivi des effets indésirables des vaccins Covid-19" (Monitoring of adverse effects of Covid-19 vaccines), the "Enquête (idem) de pharmacovigilance du vaccin Pfizer BioNTech Comirnaty des Hôpitaux de Strasbourg, Marseille, Toulouse et Bordeaux" (Pharmacovigilance survey of the Pfizer BioNTech Comirnaty vaccine of the Hospitals of Strasbourg, Marseille, Toulouse and Bordeaux), using the most recent versions downloadable from the ANSM website. Just enter the titles we have just mentioned on a search engine. But they will be part of the kit provided to participants.

Let us calmly repeat to the interlocutors that any statistician, using the official reports and the risk of serious Covid for the population (0.05%) and even more so for young people (0.02%), knows that vaccination is mathematically much more dangerous than Covid, and that real-life or clinical experience confirms this more and more each day as the effects appear. That every three weeks, more than 500 people's lives will officially be shattered by the side effects of unnecessary and imposed vaccines. These figures should actually be multiplied several times over, according to all those who have studied them seriously.

Let's recall by a sentence that a vaccine doctor was paid 450 euros for half a day in a vaccinodrome whereas each declaration of side effect reported by a victim requires an hour for a doctor who must take his free time and is not paid.

Preparing teams to discuss

As I have often ended up in discussions where this was useful, it would be preferable for each team to have several printed elements with them, in particular indisputable sources (official documents, clear).

Some lines are more easily opened up or accepted.

Everyone should, as mentioned above, have the latest French pharmacovigilance reports, as well as those of the European Medicine Agency-Eudra Vigilance, or VAERS (Vaccine Adverse Event report System) to be able to read and easily show the latest statistics, damage and inefficiency of health programmes.

Detoxification tips, ways to report side effects, and complaints can be cautiously suggested by referring to online addresses and resources.

Ideally, a relentless chronology of this crisis will be prepared, not too short, not too long, with dates, facts, promises, contradictions, confessions, corruption, human rights violations, to clearly show the deception, to give back the memory to the people who have been constantly guilted and drowned in information and paradoxical injunctions, and to unite us and touch the heart of the people, because we all know the direction they want to take us. It is always possible to make someone, a group of people, see the truth. The choice that will follow is theirs, but at least we will have, by the appropriate means, shown the reality without denial being possible. Particular emphasis will be placed on children and the elderly.

All the fundamental declarations related to human rights have been violated in the last two and a half years: Hippocratic Oath for doctors, obliging them to treat and not to obey orders or financial interests; Munich Charter for journalists where they commit themselves to seek and tell the truth for the benefit of populations and human rights; Nuremberg Protocol and Oviedo Convention for Justice which did not enforce the prohibition of pressure and experimentation of medicine on humans without accurate and impartial information which was never provided, but censored.

We can explain the process of interfering vaccinations, during the epidemic, on people who already have antibodies, inevitably leading to "overdoses", blood clots and accidents, as with the Dengvaxia of Sanofi-Aventis in the Philippines. As well as the fatal reactions due to our different immune systems (HLA-Human Leukocyte Antigen) revealed by the Nobel Prize in Medicine Jean Dausset in 1980.

Other information and argumentation tools

Other useful tools will be at your disposal, some of which already exist and others which are being prepared with the partner structures.

Organisations, personalities, websites and groups that we know well have decisive and effective historical or current facts and figures at our disposal, if we know how to handle them with the necessary tact, without asserting them in an aggressive manner.

Use what works best, but prefer the elements you feel in tune with.

Location and Distribution of Rallies

The meeting points and times with practical details will be communicated by the collectives and associations as and when they become available on the Signal and/or Telegram website and group pages.

It is best to choose the busiest places in towns and villages, avoiding places that are too crowded or where people are in a hurry. Markets and shopping streets in particular are excellent places, preferable to shopping centres.

It is also possible that small groups are spread out in the cities in different places, always with a distance allowing legibility and repetition effect so that the passers-by really have the impression to see witnesses everywhere, just like the victims of these vaccinations everywhere around them without them knowing it. The main thing is that the witnesses do not lose sight of each other for safety reasons.

Legal obligations

Information and legal texts can be provided on how to report the event to the prefectures.

Communication and Animation

Let's go beyond portraits, discussions and animations on the day.

Witnessing differently?

Why not bear witness through our cars, on our balconies, through portraits, figures, sentences pronounced by politicians and denied by the facts?

Music

Musical or artistic interventions that open up hearts can really make a difference to the event, whether they are well-known or not.

Media, Broadcasting in France and abroad

Think about encouraging, or even organising as much as possible, a live broadcast by Alternative Media, by the participants and by the public, as well as the impact of the event afterwards.

TV ADP (Alliance du Peuple), which aims to help all French collectives, is a partner of the event and intends to extend it internationally. But many media, youtubers or independent people will be able to relay the event as widely as possible.

The Doctothon will take place on the same day and will devote a large part of its programme to the event. You can encourage your listeners to check it out for more information.

Dépêches Citoyennes has also joined us.

This will be an opportunity to collaborate with the Citizen Light initiative, which we strongly encourage.

Interventions in English and other languages can be made to relay and send messages of unity to other countries.

Ideally, live Facebook and YouTube broadcasts, for example, live sharing, photo and video capture, should be organised, especially if there are strong moments or powerful interventions.

On that day, France will once again become the country of human rights for all, and each country that participates will rediscover its historic traditions of freedom and solidarity by joining the action.

Mainstream press

Despite the often painful experience of the past, it is best never to neglect contacting the press, which is also evolving, and it can be decisive to invite it, as it often brings repercussions beyond our expectations. For example, in Grenoble, a single journalist from Place Grenet at a gathering of families of victims of vaccinations brought an honest report and almost 40,000 views and 2,400 shares. In Brest, a decent article in the Telegramme, with a print run of 180,000 copies plus the Internet version, led to shares throughout France and the French-speaking world the very next day, leading to the decision to organise the December 10 event.

Policies

Similarly, let's not neglect to courteously invite politicians, with a brief reminder of the facts and a press kit: we often ignore the scope and action of the emails sent despite the silence of the interlocutors, and the underground work done by some to save lives and change opinion and the future. We know that changing the discourse is also part of politics and policies.

Witnesses, families, groups, associations, media, individuals, children, young people, parents, elders, families, of all origins, each and every one of you, each of your presence and each of your testimonies counts beyond what you can imagine!

LET'S MEET ON 10 DECEMBER!
